Rusty, The Red Rocket

Fred looks in the dressing up box. He puts on a space suit. He will go to the moon, but he has no rocket. Fred looks in the toy box and the sand pit, but does not find a rocket. He runs up to the bedroom but only finds a teddy. Sadly, he sits on the bed.

Then Fred has a good idea, and jumps up feeling excited. He will make a rocket.

He starts to look for the stuff he needs.

He finds a big tin tube in the barn. He stands it up on a tree stump in the yard.

Rusty, The Red Rocket

Next he finds six plastic bottles for the rocket. He finds glue, and sticks the bottles on. Fred looks for a pointed top for the rocket and sticks it on. He paints the rocket red and calls it Rusty.

The red rocket looks very smart. Fred will go to the moon in it. He will travel to the planets and go to the stars in Rusty. He calls mum to see the red rocket on the pad in the yard.

Mum likes the red rocket, and gives Fred flapjack in a tin and a bottle of fizzy lemon.

Just as Fred steps inside the red rocket,
Mark, the boy next door, calls out to Fred. Mark wants to go in the red rocket as well. Fred finds a space suit for Mark and he puts it on.

Rusty, The Red Rocket

At last all is set for the trip to the moon. Fred and Mark are very excited.
